About Institution:

Viswanadha Institute of Pharmaceutical Sciences (VNIPS) was established in 2008. It is being run by Viswanadha Educational Society.

VNIPS is affiliated to Jawaharlal Nehru Technological University – Kakinada and approved by All India Council for Technical Education & Pharmacy Council of India, New Delhi.

VNIPS has all state of art facilities required for running the courses in a best way. It has a team of well experienced, vibrant and dynamic faculty under the veteran leadership of Principal Dr. P. Uma Devi. Quality Education is the prime motto of VNIPS.

VISION: To transform as reputed institution imparting Pharmacy education and research in bringing out adept Professionals.

MISSION:

- Impart value based and value added pharmacy education to meet global standards.
- Groom the students towards achieving academic excellence and encourage research towards social orientation with emphasis on health care.
- Nurture the budding Pharmacists in catering to the needs of Industry and Society.
- Strengthen interaction of the institute with Industry and Hospitals.

Objectives of the program:

The program’s most important objective is to aware students about the importance of structure activity relationship in drug development and to understand about the compounds with similar structures to a pharmacologically active drug.

Topics covered:

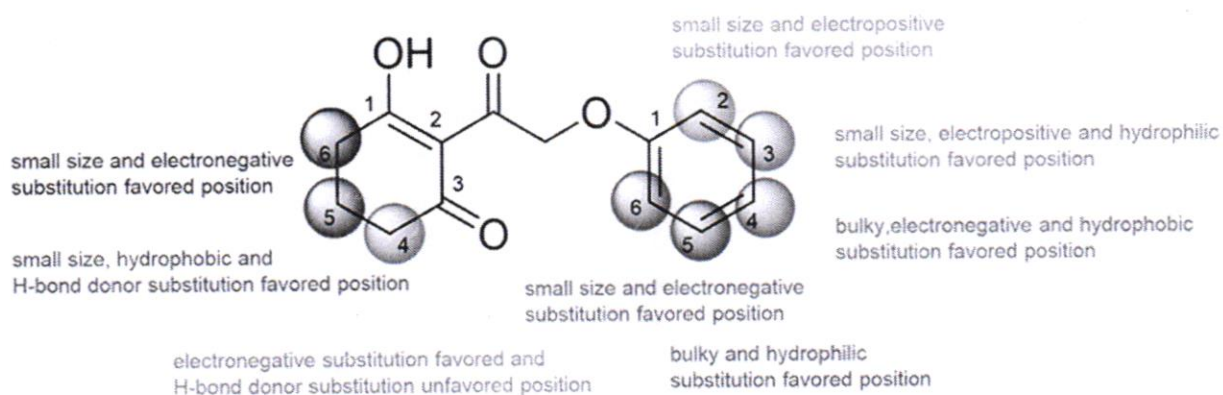

Structure activity relationship is used to develop a new drug that has increased activity, a different activity from an existing drug and fewer unwanted effects. It is typically possible to infer a novel chemical compound's biological effects from its molecular structure by utilizing information about other compounds that are comparable to it.

The effect of structural changes on biological activity:

1. Modifying the size and shape of the molecule
2. Introduction of new substituent’s
3. Introduction of a group in an un-substituted position

Topics covered:

- Quantitative structure activity relationships
- Lipophilicity
- Partition coefficient
- Electronic effects
- Hammett constant
- Steric effects
- Hansch analysis
- Craig plots

Outcome:

The students were able to predict the biological activity from molecular structure of a compound based on structure activity relationship.

The main goal is to instruct students on how to draft a research or review article with the help of their research findings, insights and knowledge and communicate to a wider audience.

Topics covered:

- Organization and structure: Provide a clear framework and logical order for the article. Sections like the Introduction, Methodology, Results, Discussion, and Conclusion are typically found in research articles. Although the structure of review articles can differ, they should nonetheless be coherently organized.
- Originality and uniqueness: Ensure that your work is original and unique. Avoid unnecessary duplication of obtainable research, and clearly state how your study adds to the presented knowledge.
- Citation and references: Properly cite all relevant sources and give credit to the work of others. This establishes the credibility of your article and acknowledges the foundations upon which your research is built.
- Methodology
- Data presentation
- Critical analysis and discussion
- Ethical considerations

Outcome:

Students are known that drafting an effective research or review article are multifaceted, ranging from personal and professional development to broader contributions to the field of study and society at large. These outcomes highlight the importance of rigorous and effective academic writing and research dissemination.
